Police investigating carjacking in Perth

Last Update: Tuesday, May 1, 2007. 10:17am (AEST)

A 17-year-old boy has had his car stolen in unusual circumstances in the northern Perth suburb of Joondalup.

Police say the teenager stopped on Joondalup Drive when a woman jumped in front of his vehicle early this morning.

They say several other people were standing next to a bogged car nearby.

The woman and a child got into the teenager's car and ordered him to drive around.

Police say the woman spoke aggressively and ordered him to return to the bogged vehicle.

They say the boy was forced to get out of his car before the woman and her friends drove off.
