Stolen car chased through seven suburbs

May 4, 2007 - 1:49PM

A man will face court on Friday after ramming a police car and injuring two officers during a high-speed chase through seven Perth suburbs.

The pursuit began when a 30-year-old Alexandra Heights man, driving a stolen Kia Hatch, allegedly failed to stop for a police patrol in east suburban Victoria Park about 10.30pm (WST) on Thursday night.

For half-an-hour police pursued the car through South Perth, Perth, North Perth, and the northern suburbs Yokine, Greenwood and Karrinyup.

"He was doing everything he could to elude police, the pursuit was aborted on several occasions because it was in excess of 140kph and driving on the incorrect side of the road," a police spokesman said.

The chase ended at Karrinyup when the Kia rammed a police patrol car, slightly injuring two police officers inside.

The officers were treated at Sir Charles Gairdner Hospital for minor injuries and the alleged offender was treated for a broken nose.

The man will appear in Perth Magistrates Court on 10 charges, including driving recklessly, dangerous driving causing bodily harm, assault with intent to prevent arrest and stealing.
