Four arrested over alleged carjacking

May 24, 2007 - 9:19AM

Police in Melbourne have arrested four men and recovered a car stolen during an armed carjacking.

A family of three was forced from a car at gunpoint outside a McDonald's restaurant on the Princes Highway at Eumemmering, in Melbourne's south-east, at about 12.20am (AEST) on Thursday.

Two men wearing hooded tops, one carrying a firearm, forced the woman driver, her boyfriend and daughter from the car outside the restaurant, police said.

The men then drove off in the car, a silver and green 1995 Holden Calais sedan.

Although the three occupants were not hurt, they were treated for shock.

A Victoria Police spokeswoman said the car, which had been damaged, was located at a railway station in suburban East Malvern about 8am (AEST) on Thursday.

"The car has since been located at Tooronga railway station," the spokeswoman said.

"Four males are in custody and a firearm has also been recovered."
