Two charged over robberies and pursuit

September 26, 2007 - 9:14AM

A man and a woman have been charged over two armed robberies and an alleged police pursuit through Sydney's north.

Police allege a 26-year-old Redfern man stole an amount of money from a register at a pharmacy on the Pacific Highway in Mount Colah and fled in a stolen Holden Commodore with a 26-year-old Redfern woman about 2pm (AEST) yesterday.

He allegedly stole money from another pharmacy register in Berowra on the Pacific Highway a short time later.

Nobody was injured in either incident.

Police chased the car south on the F3 before it collided with police vehicles and other cars.

No one was injured in the collision.

The man and woman have been charged with two counts of stealing from a person, driving without the owner's consent and driving recklessly or furiously in a speed/ manner dangerous.

The woman was charged with being carried in conveyance without the consent of the owner.

Both were refused bail to appear at Hornsby Local Court today.
